KPFK is on-the air twenty-four hours a day. Our transmitter is on Mount Wilson and we broadcast in stereo multiplex with an Effective Radiated Power of 112,000 Watts. Studios and offices are at 3729 Cahuenga Blvd., North Hollywood 91604. Address mail to KPFK, Los Angeles 90038. Phone 213-984-2711 or 877-2711

KPFK is owned and operated by the Pacifica Foundation, a non-profit institution. Other Pacifica stations are KPFA, Berkeley, Calif. 94704 WBAI, New York 10021 and KPFT, Houston, Texas 77002. Application for a fifth station is pending in Washington. Subscriptions are transferable.

The KPFK Folio is not sold, it is sent free to each subscriber to the station. The program listings are published every month as a service to subscribers who support our nonprofit, noncommercial educational station.

3729 CLUB

Business listing for or membership in the 3729 Club does not reflect the endorsement of KPFK or its listeners by the business or individual or vice-versa.

All right, we're halfway there, but that's not good enough. We have about 1800 active members in the 3729 Club, but that's not three thousand-seven-hundred-twenty-nine and it will take 3729 participating members with their "fin" a month to keep us in the black, on the air with programs and not shucks for money.

We know that times are hard all over. Money is tight for everyone of us little people who are the backbone of supporters of Free Speech Radio.

HELP US DO IT

KPFK is in need of volunteers for any number of jobs that wait to be done. Come wrap your hands lovingly around a broom, run them trippingly over a typewriter or confidently over a phone. Lend us your tongue to lick envelopes, your heart to pitch subscriptions or your duff to sit in the reception area and direct traffic.

Put your spare time to good, fun, productive use. Join the new KPFK GIG CORPS. Interesting people, same old places and promotions hourly. From womb to broom and back again, says Mrs. Boom Boom Caruthers, famed show bizilluminary and part time KPFK servicer. I increased my blood pressure 40 points, says Chick Banana, another product of the KPFK system. Try us. You'll be amazed by the changes you'll go through. Do it today, don't delay another minit. The life of the KPFK GIG CORPS is exactly what you have always deserved but never dreamed would happen. Send your name and address, plus your job skill, hours you would be available to serve, to Lanny the Pope Orlin, KPFK, L.A. 38. Latvian Lutherans need not apply.

SAID

IT WOULD GO UP.....

After 11 years of broadcasting from inside banana crates, freezing in winter and boiling in summer, we find ourselves in the new building. We will be stunned with realization for a few days. No one ever thought the thing would actually be put up, but there it is, pardon me, here it is. Carpeted, warm as toast, all shiny and new. The bathroom has a shower, is free of graffiti so far, the toilets work without your help, and there is room for all, no more waiting. Room to walk around, to hide, to quietly flip out when everything seems to have gone amok. Manager Segelman said it would go up--it has, and he has had the last laugh. Now he has the first headaches. You hear talk interspread between programming--conversations about the needs if the place. "40,000 square feet of carpeting" you hear as you pass by one of the offices; "A Sony 10 track was ordered but never..." you hear on the way to where you've been told the coffee urn is. Problem conversations adrift on an ocean of space, waiting to be moored to a department, assigned a docking space. Somehow you know it will all come out. The damned old building is still there; you look out the window of Lanny's office and wonder how the station ever survived in the shack across the way. How will you feel when the shack comes down, is carted away, paved, and becomes a parking lot? What will you hear when you put your ear to the asphalt in this new parking lot? Will you hear 11 years of a high radio experience? Will the ground you tread and park on be electric with 11 years of excitement, despair, hope, and jubulation from the scores of volunteers who come, go, come again, and go again? Probably not. Someone in reception, Lili probably, will buzz people in the building and ask, "Why is that person laying down in the parking lot and giggling periodically?" After the third person hangs up on her, she will walk outside, stamp her foot, clear her throat, and direct you to Marvin Segelman's office. Once inside, Marvin will tell you a few jokes, give you a pledge card, ask you if you have any contacts with a carpeting outfit, an electronics firm, then get someone to show you the building. Once you have left, my phone will ring and he will ask, "John, what do you think of putting a speaker under the asphalt that plays some of our best plugs for subscriptions?" I will wander around the building for a while, then phone him back and agree it might not be a bad idea. By that time he will have found out that insurance would be a problem, and besides he was only kidding! Someone had just been in his office who had had his ear to the ground: "He left a check." With the new building come no fewer problems, we find. Infinitely more interesting, yes, but no fewer. But that is how it should be.

ABORTION

this message might
even save her life!

It is no longer necessary for unfortunate girls to be ruthlessly exploited for profit by quacks and inept butchers. Now they can have perfectly legal abortions under strict hospital care. The new California Therapeutic Abortion Act provides that all services be performed by physicians in accredited hospitals.

Last year it is estimated some 700,000 illegal abortions were performed in the United States. Almost without exception exorbitant prices were charged, hospital facilities were not available and a complete medical staff was not present to cope with emergencies.

Some of those girls died unnecessarily. Others suffered severe infections. Still others will never again be able to bear a child due to incompetent treatment.

The National Abortion Council for Therapeutic Abortions and Family Planning wants to make sure that all girls receive humane and sanitary treatment. YOU CAN HELP.

If you know of a pregnant girl who is considering sneaking off to have her abortion in a germ-infected apartment or office tell her to call us. Our counseling service is free.

We recommend only:
the most reputable physicians; doctors offering fair and reasonable prices; services which will be completely within the law; services performed at accredited hospitals.

SOME TIME CHANGES

In order to re-instate a Noon Concert, we have scheduled the noon programs for 10 AM which we think will also be a better time for more people. Clare Loeb's Sour Apple Tree remains on Mondays with its second airing the following Sunday at 5 PM. Cynthia Sears' Writers & Writing continues on Tuesday with its replay ! Sunday at 7 PM. Perspectives in Performing Art with Howard Amacker takes a vacation while Howard is preparing a play for performance; it will return in the near future at a new time. In its place Wednesday, at 10 AM we've left an open spot for Interesting Things. Film, now with Charles Higham and Doug Jones goes thru a more drastic alteration in that the program will now originate Thursdays at 9:30 PM and replay on Fridays 10 AM. The Savage Breast originates as usual Wednesday at 7:30 PM and moves to Thursday at 10 AM for its rebroadcast. We hope these new times and the addition of a Noon Concert suit your listening. Let us know how you feel.

FILM

Studies in depth with Charles Higham and Doug Jones.

Charles Higham is the author of the highly controversial new book on Orson Welles and has written several other film books including Hollywood in the 40s and Hollywood Cameramen. He is a contributor to the New York Times, Sight and Sound, and is the Hollywood correspondent for the Australian press where he is syndicated in several papers. He is currently writing a history of the movies for Doubleday. Doug Jones is a young film-maker, currently editing a 16mm feature shot a year ago which bears the working title of Blue Rose Lady. He has just finished a western screenplay which is currently looking for a home. His criticism has been published in local newspapers and many film journals as well as our Folio. He has been reviewing for KPFK for about a year.

This new format for FILM will try to cover particular productions-in-progress in depth, with interviews and discussions with the participants. An assessment of their past work will be included and a short review section will conclude the programs.

FRONTIERS OF RESEARCH

Each month News & Views presents a different outstanding specialist in a field of study reporting on new developments in that field. The series, called "Frontiers of Research" is heard Wednesdays on News & Views at 6:10.

This month we're pleased to present Psychiatrist and psychoanalyst Roderic Gorney, Director of the Program on Psychosocial Adaptation and the Future of UCLA's Department of Psychiatry. His series "The New Biology and the Future of Man" will begin Feb. 3 and continue each Wednesday through the month. Dr. Gorney will look at prospects for the control of gestation, genetics, life and death controls, (such as organ transplantation and the suspension of life through freezing), control of the brain and control of the mind.

1:00 TENOR
OF THE TIMES:

On November 1st last, resident tenor buff Fred Hyatt promised you choice goodies from the phonographic lore of the fabled Danish tenor, Helge Roswaenge. His plans pre-empted at that time by KPFK's unlamented Marathon, he now makes good his promise

The Spoleto Festival

In 1958 the Spoleto Festival of the pre-forming arts began, under the guidance of Gian Carlo Menotti and Thomas Schipers. Spoleto has existed since the third century B.C., with two theaters
as evidence of a cultural life flourishing for many centuries. This recorded sample presents musical performances by the American Brass Quintet, harpsichordist Luciano Sgrizzi, the Bartok
Quartet, various instrumental and vocal groups, and readings from their own works by poets Allen Ginsberg and Ezra Pound; Mercury 2-9133 (100:15)

RECORD REVIEWS

DAVID CLOUD

Shostakovich/Symphony No. 14. Margarita Miroshnikova, soprano; Yevgeny Vladimirov, bass. Moscow Chamber Orchestra/Rudolf Barshai conducting. Melodiya/Angel stereo disk SR 40147.

Dmitri Shostakovich has always been for me an enigmatic composer. How could the man who wrote the saucy, sparkling First Symphony and the brilliantly dissonant Second Symphony (a truly unjustly neglected 20th century masterwork) be reduced to an embarrassing self-parody in the Eleventh and Twelfth Symphonies? I don't think the artistic suppression of the Stalinist era is the answer, for the Eleventh and Twelfth Symphonies were written long afterward—in fact, during a period of relative artistic freedom in the Soviet Union. I once thought the usual conservatism of older age might be the reason most of Shostakovich's works of the last 10 or 15 years sounded pretty warmed over. But just when I was about to write Dmitri off, voilà, the darkly sombre Thirteenth Symphony (on poems of Yevtushenko) and the magnificent Second Cello Concerto (which has not yet been recorded). And now, the Fourteenth Symphony.

Like its immediate predecessor, the Fourteenth is a vocal work (soprano and bass soloists) and again is not really a symphony in the usual formal sense (but nonetheless satisfying structure-wise). Scored only for 19 strings and a percussion array (in addition to the vocal soloists), the work is in 11 connected movements. This unusual structure and scoring is matched by an astonishing (for Shostakovich) selection of texts for the singers—poems by Garcia Lorca, Apollinaire, Rilke, and the Russian Kuchelbecker. The recurring theme is Death itself—not in a resigned, philosophical sense but on a very visceral level—Death-as-Grim-Reaper (to quote the excellent album annotations). The music is by turns macabre, austere, violent, harrowing, anguished, and inevitable. The vocal soloists and the instrumentalists convey all this remarkably well, although I would have preferred a bit more clarity in the strings and a little less vibrato from the soprano. Complete Russian/English texts are provided, and the recorded sound has fine stereo separation.

Perhaps the accident and illness that Shostakovich suffered a few years ago have given him a new vision. Whatever the impetus, seldom has an artist communicated so clearly that which is ultimately ineffable.

A final note: The California Chamber Symphony under Henri Temianka will give the West Coast premiere of the Shostakovich Fourteenth on February 7 at Royce Hall, UCLA, a concert which will be broadcast over KPFK.

IN BRIEF

Asioli/Piano Sonata in G; Piano Sonata in C. Vladimir Pleshakov, piano. Orion stereo disk ORS 7026

One of the more fascinating and educational aspects of the age of the phonograph record has been, in the never-ending pursuit for new repertoire to record, the re-discovery of some shadowy figures from the past whose contributions to music have been long-since forgotten. Bonifacio Asioli (1769-1832) certainly qualifies on this score. He was apparently a precursor of the great 19th century school of virtuoso keyboard composers. The two sonatas recorded here are light and tuneful and use keyboard virtuosity as an actual compositional tool. The recording catches the sound of the restored 1795 Broadway piano admirably.

Carter/Concerto for Orchestra. Schuman/In Praise of Shahn. New York Philharmonic/Leonard Bernstein conducting. Columbia stereo disk M 30112.

Two new works by two of America's most skilled and accomplished composers. Elliot Carter's Concerto is a surreal, pointillistic montage of textures, colors, and shapes, while William Schuman alternates irregular, brassy fanfares with smooth, passionate writing for the strings to achieve a moving tribute to the late graphic artist Ben Shahn. Columbia's sound has clarity, but is just a bit too dry for my taste. Intriguing liner notes by the two composers on the genesis of the works.

VIOLIN VIRTUOSI

Henry Roth's Violin Virtuosi series presents its twelfth episode of recorded historical rarities, Monday, February 22, 2 pm, rebroadcast the same day at 10 pm.

Jan Kubelik, dubbed The Heir to Paganini, at the turn of the century, comes to grips with the finger-twisting intricacies of Fantasy on a Theme from Lucia di Lammermoor, transcribed by Saint-Lubin, recorded in 1902. Other features will include the VV debut of Jelly d'Aranyi (a grandniece of Joachim, to whom Ravel dedicated his famous Tzigane), and Fritz Kreisler plays a movement from Beethoven's Sonata Op. 12, No. 1 (1935).

Added highlight will be a "Confrontation" between the intrepid Bronislaw Huberman, in his prime, and the phenomenal 18 year-old Yehudi Menuhin (performing Sarasate's Romanza Andaluza back-to-back, from discs made in 1920 and 1934). As usual, Henry will analyze, evaluate and comment.

WOODMAN WOODMAN SAVE THOSE TREES!

KPFK has moved. We are now in our new building across the way from our old building. Said former building will be torn down shortly to comply with city ordinances about parking facilities etc.

But, there are some beautiful trees and shrubs that line the old building and unless they are dug up and moved, they will be lost. We have moved and replanted what we could with simple garden tools, but these are large full-grown evergreens.

Hal Thorpe, Subscription Coordinator, dons another hat late afternoons and Saturdays to tend the growing things, and plant and rake and water. Under his guidance, we have moved three small trees and some plants, into the areas around the new building. Now, we need the help of professionals.

Is there someone out there with the knowhow, and the equipment for a major transplant job? If there is, please contact Hal Thorpe at 984-2711 or 877-2711.

Help save our trees, Also remember if this is your regular line of work, it is a tax deductible contribution too.

CHASE THOSE GREY CLOUDS AWAY

HELP! SUPPORT LANNY'S HABIT...

I don't remember when we all began to notice the change in Lanny. The first indication that all was not well came shortly after he innocently placed an add in the April Folio for Blue Chip stamps. He began to run into our office and complain about the mail being one or two minutes late. If the day's mail contained no stamps he would disappear for a few hours, returning glassy-eyed, his face covered with glue he would babble on and on about what he was going to get for the station with his next batch of Blue Chip stamp books. Soon it was too late for any one of us to help him. What started out as a mild one or two pages of stamps a day habit, soon became a problem for him as he hit the hard stuff and filled his first few books. More and more pushers heard about him and supplied him with a fix by sending through the mails ever increasing amounts of stamps. We began to note recently how his day would suffer should his dealers fail him. The final blow, the day when we knew we had to keep him supplied with Blue Chips or commit him to the Stamp Warehouse, was when he was caught massaging his tongue with a vibrator. Embarrassed that his problem was now out in the open, he blurted out his story.

Deciding that the best way to keep Lanny the Tongue happy and productive was to keep him supplied with stamps and books, we turned to the Folio Freaks for help. Soon books were coming in the mail daily. Lanny began to take a renewed interest in life. He began to gain a little of the weight back, he seldom disappeared from the station to score more stamps. Once again the Folio Freaks came through and a great tongue man was saved. You can help! Send your Blue Chip Stamps to Lanny the Tongue Orlin, KPFF, Los Angeles 38. A tongue put to use today, is a typewriter for KPFF tomorrow
